DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because of the following:
 - a. FIG. 2: The horizontally oriented cross-section line 11-11 is not properly oriented because the cross-sectional view of FIG. 11 depicts a vertical cross section of the column and slab.
 - b. FIG. 3: The lead line for reference character 34 at the right side of the figure is not directed to the top surface of the plate 32.
 - c. FIG. 11 and 12: Reference characters 180 and 183 are both used to depict the same element, the vertical reinforcing.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see the amendment, filed 31 October 2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1, 9-11 under 35 U.S.C. 102, and 4, 7-8 under 35 U.S.C. 103 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of applicant's remarks. Further, the indicated allowability of claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 12 and 13 is withdrawn and the following rejections based on 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraph, follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling.

The rectangular concrete tank product claims that do not include a slab having a rectangular slab plate defining at least four side walls and at least four side panels are not enabled by the disclosure because those elements (a rectangular slab plate and four side panels) and the associated liquid-tight welds between each adjacent element, are critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s). See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

There are several instances in the amendment and/or specification related to the criticality of the rectangular concrete tank structure. For example, the criticality of the rectangular slab plate and four side panels is relied upon in the amendment, e.g., at page 2, third paragraph (a tank for containing liquids which is rectangular and liquid-tight), and page 3, first paragraph (liquid-tight welds for all horizontal and vertical welds). The criticality is also supported by the specification, e.g., on pages 2 and 3 (rectangular wall outline), and page 7 (at a minimum, the tilt-up concrete tank 10 consists of the bottom slab 12 and side walls 14, 16, 18, 20).

However, the claims do not include all of the critical elements of the invention that are essential for a rectangular concrete tank that is liquid-tight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As argued in the amendment, applicant's intent and the claim preamble are a rectangular concrete tank, not just a connection for a tank.

Therefore, the body of the claim fails to include the minimum elements and associated connections required for a rectangular tank. Specifically, the claim is limited to one sidewall linear slab plate, a plurality of side panels having side plates and a bottom plate, and two connections (one between the bottom plate and slab plate and one between two adjacent side plates). Such an arrangement fails to define a rectangular concrete tank, as set forth in the preamble of the claim. Further, the structure lacks the minimum four side panels (a minimum requirement as noted in the amendment and supported by specification) and liquid-tight welds between all bottom plates and the slab plate and liquid-tight welds between all adjacent side plates in order to form a rectangular tank.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
